DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Macy et al (Macy).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention “by another,” or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Macy's claim 1 teaches a method for processing variable length symbols stored in a data buffer which includes a plurality of data storage blocks wherein when respective bits of a symbol are stored in more than one data storage block a shift merge operation is performed relative to the symbols bits in the more than one storage blocks resulting in the symbol bits being stored in a destination storage device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The claims are directed to a method, process or system for performing a sequence of steps which is merely a program per se. While the program contains functionally descriptive material the recording of the functionally descriptive material on some computer-readable medium which would enable the functionality to be realized fails to be recited. Relative to claim 24 the recitation of machine readable medium is not sufficient in view of the definition of machine readable medium on pages 8-9 of the specification which includes transmission medium including carrier waves.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. Claims 6-8, 10, 12-14, 22, 23, 28 and 36-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 6, line 5; “an” should be “any”. In claim 10 the phrase “said first single instruction multiple data register” lacks clear antecedent basis. In claims 12, 22, 28 and 36 “right” should be “left”.

Specification

5. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

6. The status of application 09/952,891 referenced on page 2 is required to be updated.

Drawings

7. In Fig. 7B operation 740 is labeled “shift right merge” but the data is shown as shifted to the “left”.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
